Hail Suppression Crews Start Watching Saturday

Hail suppression operations in this area will commence on June 20th, according to an announcement by officials of the Irving P. Kriek Associates of Canada Ltd. (This company was previously known as W.R.D.C. Modification Corp Ltd.).

Operations will continue until September 25th. The area under protection is composed of portions of the M.D.'s of Mountain View, Rocky View and Kneehill, as well as the City of Calgary, which in all comprises an area of approximately 1,000,000 acres.

Over 150 ground-based silver iodide generators have been installed in and around the defended area, manned by local operators. Operators will receive their instructions from either the Calgary or Didsbury offices of Kriek Associates, by telephone or radio-telephone.

Two aircraft will again be used this year to supplement the ground based equipment.

WEDDINGS

KELLY — SWANSON

Alma Doreen, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Swanson was united in marriage to Norman Edward Kelly, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kelly of Windsor, Ontario on June 14 at 4 p.m.

The lawn of the bride's home was the scene of the charming wedding, which was flanked with bouquets of lilacs and peonies.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a balerina length gown of white nylon lace over taffeta, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and tiny cap sleeves. Her finger tip veil was held in place by a coronet of nylon tulle set with rhinestones. She wore lace cuffs and carried a bouquet of red carnations. Her only jewellery was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

The groom, a rifleman in the Queen's Own Rifles, was dressed in his service uniform.

Miss Joyce Watson of Calgary as maid of honor wore a waltz length gown of yellow lace over taffeta and carried a bouquet of white peonies.

The groom was attended by Lyle Taylor.

Rev. A. Magee performed the double ring ceremony.

The wedding music was played by Miss Patricia Hoskin.

The bride's mother wore a light brown and gold dress with white accessories and a corsage of red roses and white carnations.

The reception for the 45 guests was held in Midway school.

The bride's table was decorated with flowers and centred by a three tiered wedding cake, topped with wedding bells and lily-of-the-valley. A unique pair of salt and pepper shakers, showing a bride and groom on one side and fifty years hence on the other side were an added attraction.

Mr. Gordon Hoskin, master of ceremonies proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded.

A few selections of entertainment were heard after which the bride opened her wedding gifts.

The happy couple will make their home at 2030-45 Ave. S.W. Calgary.

WENDY LAW TOPS AS A POETESS

Miss Wendy Law, a former student of the Didsbury school, has won top honors for a poem she entered in a recent competition at Vicount Bennett school in Calgary. Reprinted below is the winning entry:

LONELINESS

In a dark desolate alley
A small child, lost.
A lone sparrow, left
To endure winter in solitude.
A marathon swimmer, striving
In the black, dark water.
One lone flag-pole, left
To stand guard in the midst
Of a sleeping village.
A desolate plain, untouched
By human nature.
Fresh snow with only Animal tracks to show
Life still exists.
A huge ocean liner,
Merely a tiny speck
On the dark, vast waters.
A foreigner, standing alone
And repelled by native people
Unable to speak and commute.
All this, and on to infinity:
"Loneliness!"

King For A Day . . .

Remember Pop's Day !!!

June 21st is the day, when Pop will be King
He can sit around our house and not do a thing.

The family will give him his breakfast in bed
With a nice soft pillow under his head.

His slippers will be put by his big easy chair,
A pipe and tobacco will also be there.

Just ready for Pop when he decides to get up
From drinking his coffee from his favorite cup.

The kids will go around as quiet as a mouse,
Next Sunday, when Pop is King in our house.

All the rest of the year he will work without rest,
So that we can get all the things that are best.

Let's all remember Dad on Father's Day
And make him happy in his own little way.

Give him some presents to remember us all by,
But don't give him any of those horrid old ties.

Our love and respect will mean quite a lot,
To the King of our house, "grand old Pop."

Let's remember him every day of his life,
And try not to cause him any sorrow or strife.

Dad is a fellow who will always be true,
To his children, no matter, what ever they do.

So please remember Pop when your prayers are being said,
Give him your love when he is living, and not when he's dead.

"Red Night", a powerful dramatic, color, sound film depicting the seething conflict between Communism and Christ in Moscow is scheduled for a premiere showing on Saturday, June 20th at the United Missionary Church in Didsbury, beginning at 8 p.m.

See authentic, behind-the-Iron Curtain color film portrait of the heartbreaking struggle for survival of the Christian remnant in Russia. Their loyalty to Christ has made them second-class citizens, exposed them to scorn, relegated them to menial employment, and is daily subjecting them to the torment of seeing their children educated to hate and despise their Saviour.

See the Russia you are reading and hearing about today — Red Square, the Kremlin, the Moscow University, the rigid discipline of Russian classrooms and the rare and forbidden shots of a communal farm. This is a film you'll never forget.

Guest Editorial

ARE WE SOFT?

Every once in a while we see the list of court cases and look over the record of the accused and his punishment for his latest misdeeds. It strikes us forcibly that about all we are doing for the continuing criminal is to keep on sending him back to jail where he has spent most of his life, and feeding and clothing him as well.

If, after having once been in jail does a criminal mind "go back again?" Can this be the reason they don't care what they do when they get out?

Perhaps there was some merit in the old time lash — where a criminal remembered it with awe and would not care to face the same treatment again?

At the present time our jails appear to have become a boarding house and haven for the fellow who wants to fill his life with criminal action and return to the penitentiary where he knows we have to keep him.

Blood Donor Clinic Here July 3rd

(The following is a message we received from the local branch of the Red Cross Society and pertains to the Blood Donor Clinic to be held here on Friday, July 3rd. We quote:

"We require a larger than average number of Group 'O' 'RH Negative' donors because:

(a) We must supply 'O' 'RH Negative' blood for all patients of this type requiring blood.

(b) In emergency cases where time does not permit testing of the patient's blood, often only Group 'O' 'RH Negative' blood can be used with safety.

(c) Group 'O' 'RH Negative' blood is used almost exclusively in cases of haemolytic disease of the newborn where the baby requires to survive."

Homemaker

By KATHLEEN OARNEY

Before long it will be time for holidays, canning, and of course hot, hot days. Those will be the days when you will want to get by with as little effort as possible. One of the easiest ways to keep cool is to serve root meals — cold cuts and salads. Here is a high protein salad that also has plenty of crispness:

Chicken, Celery and Egg Salad
3 cups cold diced chicken
1 1/2 cups diced celery
Chopped pickle
1 teaspoon salt
2 hard-cooked eggs
Combine chicken, celery, salt; cut up eggs, reserving 3 or 4 perfect slices for garnish. Add eggs, celery and pickle to chicken mix-well with mayonnaise.

Even on a day when you serve hot meals, a cool, light touch can be achieved with an accompanying fruit salad:

Fruit Salad Supreme
1 cup fresh strawberries
1 cup diced pineapple
2 ripe bananas, sliced
1/2 cup orange sections
12 marshmallows cut in pieces
1 cup whipped cream
Other fruits such as pears, peaches, grapes, grapefruit may be used as well. Combine the ingredients, add the whipped cream.
Chill. Serve on crisp lettuce. Garnish with whole fresh berries.

Storage of Winter Weathers
At last, with the arrival of spring we can pack away our winter woolens. Every year moths destroy enough wool to clothe approximately one million people. Hard to believe, isn't it? Remember these pointers:

1. Clean all your woollens before storing.
2. Washable woollens can be made moth-repellent by using a product like EG 53 in the rinse.
3. Look for garments with a "Mittie" label. They've been durably moth-proofed.
4. Containers with moth preventatives should be placed at the top of closet or bag, so vapors will filter down through garments.
5. If possible, put all your woolens in a closet that won't be used during the summer months.
6. Then fumigate closet with a contact spray and seal off completely (keyhole too) with cellulose tape.
7. If storing any cloths in plastic bags — the ones with heat sealed seams are more airtight than plain sewed. If sewed, the seams should be bound or flat filled. Bags with zipper closures are usually more airtight than bags with snap or closures.

Excess Woollens
For those who have excess woolens on hand, there are several companies in Edmonton which make up blankets, rugs, etc. For further information, write to:
Fairfield and Sons, 38 Shoppers Park Westmount, Alta.

hold Supply, 11724-95th Street

June Meeting

The Didsbury W.I. held the June meeting at the home of Mrs. Helen Shannon with 12 members and one visitor present. Roll call was each member bringing a grab box for sale.

The bit of fun was a contest given by Mrs. Shannon and won by Mrs. Whitaker and Mrs. Rathburn.

It was brought to our attention that a blood donor clinic will be held in Didsbury, July 3rd. Everyone who can donate is urgently requested to attend.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Long on July 7th.

Hail Suppression Costs

May Be Illegal

A Calgary citizen has warned city council it may be acting illegally in voting $5,000 for an experiment in hail suppression.

O. D. White, 1120 31st Ave. N.W.

states in a letter to council that he has obtained legal advice on the subject and that council has no authority to spend taxpayers' moneyon such schemes without a two-third majority plebiscite.

"All rural municipalities, as you all well know, vote on so-called hail suppression each year," he said.

"You are throwing away city funds on some fast-talking individuals who told you they could suppress hail."White pointed out that the Alberta Research Council and theStormy Weather Group of McGill University admitted after years of study they knew of no way to tame

a thunderstorm.

Time For A Change Please !!!

We read other papers sometimes (strange?) — not as strange as some of the items we read. There was one item in a Calgary paper last week that certainly did not fit our fancy. A man was convicted for indecent assault on a six-year-old girl. He was sentenced to five years in jail. According to reports he had already served shorter terms for similar offences. For our money the maximum penalty of five years is far too light for an offence of this nature — if it were your daughter, or mine, what would you say? Life sentence, no less, would be our answer.

County System Coming Our Way ???

The Municipal District of Mountain View have applied to the provincial government to have the county system put into action in its area. Officials from various government departments are investigating the application and a report is expected in the near future. Rumors have it this way: the area the district covers will not be changed; schools, and possibly hospitals, will be included in the centralization program, one that proved successful in many areas. Best we can do now is wait and see which way the wheel turns.

Another Famous Quote . . .

"Every person is responsible for all the good within the scope of his abilities, and for no more, and none can tell whose sphere is the largest."

Guest EditorialUNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE TROUBLES . . .

The Canadian was handed the report on a court case held locally by an Unemployment Insurance Inspector this past week. This ties in with the uproarious discussion that have been going on in Ottawa this week over the administration of the Act. The entire system is honeycombed with weakness and loopholes and thousands of people are taking unfair advantage of the provisions of the Act. It needs some steel teeth in its administration to weed out the chronic unemployed by design. People who work constantly and consistently are getting a bit weary of carrying the unfair part of this load. . . . that great host of freeloaders who design their work program to lie idle during the winter. One of the big problems the employers have to contend with these days is the difference between wages actually paid and the "take home" pay. While this is not the fault of the employer, and really costs him quite a figure in accounting, the wage earner feels that he is being paid only by the amount that is left in his pay envelope after all the legal deductions are taken out and accounted for. Unemployment insurance is one of the deductions that is shared with the employer, too.

The point is being raised now: why should a craftsman demand extra pay for what he terms seasonal employment and still be entitled to unemployment insurance when off work? The principle of unemployment insurance is sound, but human greed is making a mockery of the administration of the Act in Canada.

AT HEART HE WAS APPRECIATIVE

An Army Colonel of 78 startled the community by marrying a beautiful girl of 19. When she presented him with an eight-pound son a year later, the overjoyed colonel assembled his entire regiment, mounted the bandstand, cleared his throat, and announced: "I have called you together to tell you that my wife gave birth this morning to a fine baby boy. Gentlemen, I thank you!"

Squirrel Cage . . .REALLY CONVERTED !!!

A little girl knocked at the front door of the grocery store. Her chum, the daughter of the grocer, stuck her head out of the second-story window.

"Sarah, we've all been to camp meeting and got converted! If you want milk on Sunday, you'll have to come around to the back of the store."

WRONG CLUE . . .

A bright young Martian landed on earth and, as luck would have it, found himself in the middle of a rock'n'roll dance hall. He surveyed the scene indignantly, and rushed to his interspace phone to call up headquarters in Mars. "You lied to me," he screamed to the official who answered the ring. "You told me I'd be the first one here!"

NO RETURN !!!

A Scoteman was aboard the jet that broke the commercial records between England and New York. "Describe your sensations," suggested a reporter. "I ha' no sensations," said the Scoteman sourly. "All I know is that I've pounds 'o' travel insurance wunt down the drain."

LIGHT YOUR WAY ...

... WITH BIBLE STUDY

Vacation time is a rich opportunity to get perspective on the routines and values of our daily living. Removed from the constant pressures of our jobs, homes and activities, we can take time to "take stock" and reappraise the quality of our lives. The title of a book by J. B. Phillips, the English religious writer and translator suggests one evaluation we might well find true for us: "Your God Is Too Small."

Have we been living with God who is merely a marginal note in the book of our lives? Is He only a go-to-church God? Is He the God we use in "foolish" religion when emergencies arise?

Contrast these concepts of God with the experience of Jesus Christ. His God was a heavenly Father who commanded the full love and the complete devotion of His children. The God of Christ is the all-embracing Lord of Life, and in particular the "All-in-All" of my life. Our God will never be too small if we have discovered the truth that God is in our life. The Psalmist has put this in mind when he wrote: "O God, what mysteries I find in Thee! How vast the number of Thy purposes!" (Psalm 139:17, translation by Moffatt).

If in the past, you my friend, have kept God on the periphery of your life, take time during this vacation season, and let Him become your life. You will be the happier vacationer, and the fuller life.

CUTWORMS—During the past week I have had numerous calls and have made inspections of fields seeded to grain that are being ravaged by the red backed as well as the pale western cutworms. Some farmers have already sprayed their fields with the insecticide ENDRIN to save their crops from complete destruction.

I would urge you to keep close check on crops that have just recently come through the ground as the cutworms seem to prefer to cut off these newly emerged crops. It doesn't take the army of cutworms more than a few days to blacken a field when they are working at top speed.

The use of ENDRIN along with 10-gallons of water per acre will practically stop them in their tracks, and, if caught at the very start, will save the crop from destruction and prevent the necessity of having to reseed. The cutworms, if left undisturbed will continue to grow and feed until near the end of June.

When they become full grown they cease to feed, and in a short time they evolve into cutworm moths. These moths then lay new eggs in the newly emerged summer-fallow and we have the cycle of trouble all over again.

One gallon of Endrin contains 32 ounces of active ingredient and it is recommended to use from 2 to 4 ounces of active ingredient per acre. 3 ounces has been proving satisfactory and, at this rate will cost about $1.00 per acre for material. It is important to use around 10-gallons of water per acre.

NOTES FROM The District
Agriculturist
HOWARD FULCHER

Silage is an excellent form of roughage. It is used quite extensively in dairy feeding and to a limited extent in beef feeding. Silage provides a succulent feed for livestock during the dry feeding season of the year.

Silage can be made from alfalfa, clover, grass or cereal crops or any combination of these. The quality of silage will depend greatly on the quality of the green crop, although coarse stemmed or weedy crops usually can be better utilized as silage.

In order to get good silage and little loss due to spoilage a few factors must be considered. Time of cutting is important; legumes in early bloom, grass just headed and cereals in soft dough stage. The moisture content is very important. 65% to 70% moisture is considered best. A test which can be used is squeeze a handful of cut material in your hand, release and the ball of material should slowly expand and break apart, if it falls apart it is too dry, if juice run out it is too wet. This test is not satisfactory on coarse material, generally 1-2 hours is enough time between cutting and ensilage time.

When filling the silo either long or cut material packing is a must. This should be carried out continuously during the filling operation. When the silo is full it should be covered to prevent spoilage; showings, sawdust, damp straw, straw, green manure or earth may be used for this.

There are numerous types of silage.
